Thermal Fogging Odor Removal

Here at First General, our technicians are certified to perform thermal fogging during the odor removal process.

Thermal fogging technology is a tool that can be used to restore your home or business after a fire, or to remediate odors from indoor tobacco use, pets, mold, fireplaces, meth lab cleanup and much more.

Thermal fogging is a unique process that is able to remove lingering odors, while also reducing the potential health risks involved with occupying a space that has been contaminated with various odor-causing agents. To learn more, visit our website: www.FirstGeneralService.com

February is a great month to thoroughly clean your appliances! Proper maintenance will not only extend the life of your appliances, but will ensure they are in safe, working order.

The First General team recommends these appliance maintenance tips:

- ✓ Clean Cooktop and Filters-Clean your oven's filters and range. Boil the filters in a solution of water, baking soda, and vinegar to rid them of flammable grease. Take your range apart and get potential fire causing drips and spills out of the hard to reach places
- ✓ Clean the Inside of the Oven-Using a paste of baking soda and washing it off with vinegar can remove most stubborn baked on food
- ✓ Clean the Washer & Dryer-If dryer lint builds up in the dryer vents, it can catch on fire. Vacuum out dryer lint thoroughly
- ✓ Clean the Dishwasher Filter-Clean out the filter in your dishwasher and the sprayer arms

THREE TIPS TO STAY WARM AND SAFE DURING EXTREME COLD

- 1 PROPER LAYERING IS KEY
 - HEAD – wear a hat that fully covers your head and ears
 - UPPER BODY – thermal base layer, mid-layer of a sweater, fleece or jacket and a top layer of a waterproof shell
 - HANDS – wear waterproof gloves and avoid texting gloves with missing fingers
 - LOWER BODY – wear long underwear underneath pants and top with snow pants
 - FEET – wear 1-2 pairs of thick socks and warm shoes or boots, preferably waterproof
- 2 STAY DRY – FROSTBITE STRIKES FAST WHEN BODY PARTS ARE WET
- 3 LIMIT TIME OUTDOORS TO PREVENT HYPOTHERMIA
